KLAIPĖDA DISTRICT

Welcome to Klaipėda district – the land of four waters

Cozy cities and towns, villages in natural sanctuaries, visually delightful landscapes that inspire imagination, millennial history of the land of minor Lithuanians and Samogitians, culture preserved down the ages, enshrined traditions, warm and friendly people... All of this and more spectacular and interesting things you will discover in Klaipėda district, in the land that is washed by the waves of the Baltic sea and the Curonian Lagoon, where the torrential Minija River winds, and the green face of the District is brightened with the eyes of blue lakes and lakelets.

You will easily know this land of four waters by travelling across vicinities, having holidays in countryside tourism farmsteads. People of this land take pride in their history, traditions and beautiful nature. We would like to share this feeling with you, dear guests of Klaipėda district.

In ethnic terms, Klaipėda district is an exception; it is nearly divided into halves by historical and cultural heritage of two Lithuanian ethnic groups, i.e. Lithuanians of Lithuania Minor and Samogitians of Lithuania Greater. Persistent ethnic and cultural differences between Minor and Greater Lithuania are remarkably visible while travelling across Klaipėda district.

GARGŽDAI

Gargždai is the administrative centre of Klaipėda district. For the first time in historical sources Gargždai was mentioned in the name of Garisda in 1253; however, people have lived here since Brass Age. Gargždai Manor has been mentioned from the 16th century. Up to the 18th century the settlement belonged to the estate of Baron E. Rėnė (Rönne). In 1792 Magdeburg rights and the coat of arms were given to Gargždai. Since the 19th century Gargždai has been famous for being the frontier town and experienced its palmy days. The trade, crafts, cultural and religious life were developing at that time. During the First World War almost the whole center of the town burned away. During the occupation of the Soviets Gargždai developed a lot. In 1950 the town became the centre of Klaipėda district. In the beginning of the years of Independence the St. Archangel Michael Church of postmodern style was built. Nowadays Gargždai is reasonably proud of interesting history and constantly renewed face of the town. North from Gargždai, on the left bank of Minija river there is a mound Kalniškė; and on the side of Gargždai there is Transparent quarry which became a new local attraction for tourists.

VĖŽAIČIAI MANOR

In historical sources Vėžaičiai Manor was mentioned from the beginning of the 18th century to the first half of the 20th century. It belonged to the counts Volmeriai. The ensemble of Vėžaičiai Manor buildings is Vėžaičiai Manor estate of architectural, historical and urban value. The complex consists of a park, a game-keeper's house, two gates, stables, a gate-house, a vodka distillery, a cow shed, a barn, a residence and a chapel. Now the cultural center of the city is established in place of manor stables.

THE ETHNOGRAPHIC CEMETERY OF KISINIAI VILLAGE

Johanas Ferdinandas Kelkis (1801–1877), the founder of Lithuanian periodical press, and Antanas Gelgoudas (1792–1831), one of the leaders of the revolt against the rule of tsarist Russia in the 1831, are buried in the ethnographic cemetery.

VEIVIRŽĖNAI

The river Veiviržas trenches the wavy relief of town. There are a lot of mounds in the surroundings of Veiviržėnai, of them the most spectacular – Skomantai – equipped in the first ages A. D. in the vivid valley of river Veiviržas the various festivals, the cinema evenings are organized, and every year in July the largest festival of town – St. Mary Magdalene's feast - is organized. In the craft centre of Klaipėda district the educational programs of traditional crafts – bread bakery, texture, weave from the switches and others are organized.

AGLUONĖNAI

A village on the shore of river Agluona, which in 2016 was acknowledged by the Ministry of Environment as the village reflecting the peculiar elements of Lithuania Minor Region best. In the unique ethnographical place of Klaipėda region the first post-war Barn Theatre in Lithuania was established, where every year the plays, the concerts of ethnographical ensembles and other cultural events are held. The Lithuanian oakery and the monument – altar of Gediminids's poles were established to mention the 450th anniversary.

sary of village and the independence of the Republic of Lithuania. In the park the authentic parts of J. Genys windmill are exhibited, the wooden grave marker to E. Kant was built.

VANAGAI

Vanagai is historically significant settlement of Klaipėda district. I. Simonaitytė, the classic of the Lithuanian literature, was born there. Vanagai village is adorned by the Evangelic Lutheran single-nave stonework church of Neo-Gothic style. By the church, there is an old cemetery, where famous public men of Lithuania Minor were buried.

PRIEKULĖ

Priekulė town is situated by the picturesque turn of the river Minija. Priekulė was the biggest settlement in Klaipėda district since 1540. Ancient architecture, authenticity, hanging bridges over Minija, museums – all this is found in Priekulė. The town centre that was formed in the 19th century is typical of the bigger Lithuania Minor town. The first Priekulė Evangelic Lutheran church was built in 1587. In the beginning of the 19th century the famous publishing houses of J. F. Šrioderis and J. Triaušys, as well as the tile factory were operating in Priekulė; the railway complex was opened in 1875 and the post office was built by the nobleman Gleichas. Priekulė is famous for its writers; E. Vichert, a well-known German writer, was working in Priekulė, I. Simonaitytė was living and creating there. In Priekulė, on the right bank of Minija river there is Vingis park where annual horse racing for Klimov's cup takes place.

LANKUPIAI LOCK

Lankupiai lock is the only sluice in Lithuania announced to be a technical monument. 10 light metal bridges were built across the channel during the period of 1902 and 1904. Lankupiai lock has not entirely lost its function; however, it is rarely used to its purpose.

KING WILHELM CANAL

This canal was named after King Frederick William I of Prussia and was constructed during 1863–1873. The initiator of the build was Gubba, a merchant of Klaipėda, supervised by Degner and Mohr – the heads of the project. The idea of the canal was to protect ships and timber rafts from dangerous storms common to the Curonian Lagoon. In the final year of construction, French prisoners of war (POW) were sent to help in order to speed up the work, up until which, the canal was dug mostly by locals. Several POWs died in the process, to which a monument was erected in their memory near the canal mouth (along the road to the international ferry terminal). The length of the canal is 25–27 km, width – 28–30 m, average depth – 1.7 m. In 1902–1904, 10 metal bridges were built; currently, only 2 bridges with metal constructions and the support remains of 7 bridges still stand. Nowadays, the King William canal is an increasingly popular water sport site and a spot for recreational fishing.

DREVERNA

An old fishermen's village, first mentioned in 1253 and situated on the coast of the Curonian Lagoon by the mouth of river

1. S. Darius Memorial Park symbolic centre – compass
2. Vanagai Evangelist-Lutheran Church
3. The Channel of King Wilhelm
4. Seaside Regional Park visitor Centre
5. Dreverna Small Boat Marina

Dreverna. Dreverna fishermen were glorified by Jonas Gižas (1887–1940), the skillful maker of the Kurėnas, twist- and fish-trap boats; whereas you can get acquainted with boat building and fishermen's traditions in J. Gižas ethnographic homestead. A modern Dreverna small vessel harbor is intended for small and rowing vessel navigation. For the comfort of the tourists there is a port with 75 spots for vessels, there is also a boathouse, a six tone lifting crane, a slipway, there is also a car park fit for twenty vehicles. In the modern port of small ships it is offered not only to sail by recreational ships of various type but also to taste the fish meals during the culinary cruise „Fish way“. 15 m equipped view tower invites to admire the images of Nagliai nature reserve and sea, and the regular direct route Dreverna–Juodkrantė–Dreverna combines the Curonian Lagoon coasts.

KARKLĖ

The only village of fishermen in Lithuania on the seashore, which kept the ethnographical peculiarity. The landscape reserve of Dutchman's Cap charms by its beauty, and the enthusiasts of bicycles can enjoy the cycle ways passing Karkle. Maritime Regional Park is almost the last place on the continental coast, where it can be admired by natural nature.

SVENCELĖ

The centre of enthusiasts of power kites, which is established on the east coast of the Curonian Spit and in the surroundings of nature reserves. It is the unique oasis of water sports, where everyone can learn “to control winds” and relax. The immense spaces, water, wind, the images of dunes on the other side of spit and the modern recreation complex blending into the landscape kindly invites everyone.

LAPIAI

Minor Lithuanian Switzerland. The vivid surroundings of Lapiai, Lapiai mound with the legends overlooking on the shore of river Žvelsa, the Nightingales' valley charms everyone coming here. In summer the tourists are attracted by canoe sailing by Minija, and in winter and spring – by extreme sailing by the river Žvelsa. The tourist hikes are organized along the hilly surroundings of Lapiai. The lovers of winter entertainments are welcomed on the hill of Utriai, where even three skiing routes of different levels are.

THE DUTCHMAN'S CAP HILL AND CLIFF

The Dutchman's Cap Hill (a parabolic dune emerged 24.4 m from the sea) is constantly eroded by the beat of the waves and falls to the seaside by the slant of 20–22 meters height. From the earliest times the Dutchman's Cap was overgrown by the old pine and oak forest and was a big contrast to the sand plain, which had stretched around. The Hill was a good guide for seamen and fishermen.

KALNIŠKĖ MOUND

Kalniškė (Gargždai) Mound stands in the north from Gargždai, on the left side of Minijs. In 1998 archeologist Povilas Tebelškis performed only a minor survey which validated connection of the mound with the Garždai Castle mentioned in 1253. Ditches and ramparts cascade, steep slopes shows that formerly the mound was a mighty castle. Kalniškės Mound is one of the most attractive tourism places in Klaipėda District.

SKOMANTAI MOUND

One of the most impressive mounds of the coast stands in the west from Skomantai village, on the right bank of Veiviržas River, near the road to Švėkšna. Skomantai Mound is the monument of archaeology and one of the best reinforced mounds in Lithuania; it is called Raguva (Raguva Hill). The Mound was settled in the first ages in the year of grace and was used up to the 13th century. It is considered, that the family of dukes Skomantai lived there. The obelisk "Samogitian" for the memorializing of the Reunion of Lithuania Minor and Lithuania Greater was built on the top part of the Mound.

ŽVAGINIAI MOUND

Mound is the place of the 13th century

Curonian Castle. It has been arranged on a high and massive hill rising over the whole landscape. Ablinga Memorial is located on the Mound – it is witnessed the tragedy of the World War II. The ensemble of 30 oak sculptures was dedicated to Ablinga and Žvaginiai village people who were fusilladed by Nazis on 23 of June 1941.

NEWLY DISCOVERED MOUND IN KARKLĖ

On August 2016 Darius Stončius from Vilnius discovered Curonian mound at the District of Klaipėda, Seaside Regional Park, in the midst of Kukuliškių village and the Dutchman's Cap Cliff (Olandų kepurės skardis) beloved by visitors. Judging from ceramic shatters found on the spot, archaeologist Dr. Gintautas Zabiela states that there was a settlement established near the mound and the mound itself might be from the late Iron Age. According to historian, this mound, which is not mentioned in written sources, will allow reassessing Curonian history. This is the second mound discovered on the seaside by far. After performing detailed archeological research, it is planned to include the mound into the register of state-protected objects of cultural heritage and adjust it for visiting.

WALKING ROUTES

Ecological Cognitive Footpath "Litorina".

The Olando Cap Landscape Reserve, Seaside Regional Park

Distance	2 km
Duration	2 hours

A steep ancient seacoast slope of Litorina goes eastwards and northwards from the Olando Cap which was formed 5–7 thousand years ago. The relative height of this ancient slope (from the sea terrace at the bottom till moraine crest at the top) is 8–21 m. Springy ravines with short fast flowing rivulets formed here. At the end of the 19th century when greenery planting works were undertaken in Giruliai Seaside a footpath for Klaipėda City dwellers was formed in these picturesque surroundings. The path is accordingly marked and has information boards; there are impressive watching sites with summerhouses at the top of the slope.

Sightseeing route "Prie rubežiaus". Gargždai bus station–Promenade–Municipality Square–Gargždai Park–Gargždai Town stadium

Distance	1,5 km
Duration	2 hours

If you choose the hiking path "Prie Rubežiaus" you will not only learn the history of Gargždai, but you will also visit the most historically significant and the most beautiful places of the town. There are 3 stands which contain interesting facts about Gargždai, historical visual materials and pictures. Every stand is numerated and has a fragment of Gargžai map, which clearly shows where the next stand is. Therefore, everybody is able to follow the route on their own or with a guide.
